THE IDAHO LOCK-OUT.

Only Two Democrats Left in the House.

THEIR PROTESTS ARE IN VAIN.

The Proposed Constitutional Convention—What Course Will the Governor Take?

BOISE CITY, Idaho, December 17, 1888.—[Special correspondence of THE HERALD.] On Saturday evening last at 7 o'clock, the assembly commenced in their room to hear the report of the committee on privileges and elections.
The members of the council were mostly present, together with many citizens of the city and visitors in town, so that the assembly room was crowded.

Precisely at the hour appointed, the members were present and the speaker called the assembly to order. The committee then read the result of their deliberations in the cases of W. H. B.
Crow against H. B. Kinport, the sitting member for Bingham, and Lyons against Kinnersley, member from Bear Lake. This committee composed of R.
H. Davis, M. A. Kurtz, George W.
Emery and E. A. Jordan made a majority report.

CHARGING CONSPIRACY

upon the part of the Mormon church to elect the seated members in defiance of the provisions of the test oath law; that a large number of Democrats were engaged in said conspiracy outside of the Mormons. Many Gentile citizens had been improperly arrested and discharged by the district court and rearrested, all of which was a part of the conspiracy and in conclusion stated that H. B. Kinport was not and W. H.
B. Crow is entitled to a seat. In the assembly and J. H. Kinnersley was not and James Lyons was entitled to a seat in the house.

Mr. Chaney, of Nez Perces, made A MINORITY REPORT

in which he made many points, chief among which were that the statutes provided (Sec. 125) that in contests of election notice should be served upon the seated member twenty days; that the same should contain a list of the voters charged to have illegally deposited ballots; that no such notice had served. It also averred that not a scintilla of evidence had been offered tending to show any voter to have deposited an illegal ballot.

MR. KURTZ

made a speech in which he stated that when he became a member of the House he raised his right hand to heaven and swore to support the constitution and laws, that he was actuated by no partisan spirit and intended to do justice regardless of party ties.

MR. CHANEY

followed Mr. Kurtz, and charged that the latter had been elected by Mormons.
[It appears that a large number of Mormons are employed on a ditch in this (Kurtz's) County, and that the whole number voted the Republican ticket.] To Mr. Chaney's accusation no reply was made.

After some other speeches

MR. KINPORT

of Bingham, addressed the house. He said he had opposed what is known in Eastern Idaho as the anti-Mormon party, because he was a Democrat, and considered the entire organization as a trick to throw the control of territorial affairs into the hands of the Republicans. He was a Democrat and no Mormon.

A vote was taken and Mr. Kinport deprived of his seat, which was given to Crow, who took the oath. Mr. Kin-port is a railroad man of Pocatello.
The speech he made and his general manner tend to prove him to be a man of considerable ability.

The case of

LYON AGAINST KINNERSLEY

came up next. Short work was made of it. Mr. Kinnersley made a very neat speech, endeavoring to place his case under the existing laws of the Territory so far as contests are concerned. It was of no avail. He had received 350 votes to Lyons' 90, and, as one member expressed it, no man could possibly receive the first number in Bear Lake who was not a Mormon—a conclusion of his incompetency was jumped at, apparently, for the reason named. Lyons was sworn in.

THE HOUSE.

And now the House has twenty-two Republicans to two Democrats, with a possible contest of another seat. If not expelled, the two Democrats remaining should resign.

One result of these contests has been to convince Democrats that there is something deeper in the test oath business than a mere design to "keep the Church out of politics," as they express it. It is more with the intent and purpose of perpetuating Republican ascendency in Idaho than anything else.

A LIQUOR BILL.

A bill for the purpose of raising licenses to sell intoxicating liquors to the sum of $1,000 has been reported and will most likely pass both houses of the Legislature. We have no idea as to the action of the Governor thereon.
They can pass any law over his veto.
He may deem it proper to throw most responsibilities upon them.

The bill to call a

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

will also pass. The members seem to be unanimously in favor of Statehood.
All kinds of legislation adverse to Mormons may be expected as well as such in other respects, will tend to perpetuate the Republican ascendancy in Idaho.

The letters and dispatches sent to THE HERALD have stirred up a hornet's nest in both branches, and the Statesman has, as might have been expected, set about abusing your correspondent.
